Container glass and bottles in various sizes and colours

O-I's leadership is seen in the company's ability to serve the most demanding markets. Among these are some of the largest brewers in the region, which O-I Latin America supplies continually and reliably with high quality bottles. Each year, thanks to a coordinated operation between all of our plants, O-I produces more than eight million glass bottles a day (almost three billion per year) for Latin America's best-known beer brands.

O-I Latin America uses the most advanced manufacturing techniques to create products incorporating innovative shapes, designs and technology. Bottles are produced in a variety of colored glass: flint, green, amber and cobalt blue; with many different printed options and ceramic and engraved decoration to distinguish the leading brands. O-I Latin America provides a reliable supply of products to customers, delivering cost-efficient advantages for their filling and distribution operations.

In addition to the innovation, service, quality and responsibility that characterize each one of our products, O-I Latin America is committed to remaining a key component of this important industry, to guarantee the supply of high-value bottles to satisfy the demands and tastes of consumers and our customers, thus consolidating the leadership of the glass bottle as the regional beer market's favorite container.
